FACTS ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

LOCATION

Gainesville, Florida, the University City, is located in the north-central section of the State, about equidistant—70 miles from the Atlantic Ocean and the Gulf of Mexico. It is 70 miles southwest of Jacksonville, 120 miles northwest of Orlando and 150 miles southeast of Tallahassee, capital of Florida. A modern town of 26,861 population, Gainesville is among the South's most rapidly growing cities.

HISTORICAL STATEMENT

In 1853 the foundation work of the present University of Florida was laid in Ocala when a small private school, East Florida Independent Institute, was opened. Florida Agricultural College was established at Lake City in 1883, and by 1905 six colleges were at least in part state supported. With the passage of the Buckman Act in 1905, the University of Florida was established in its present Gainesville location. Its destiny has been guided since that time by four presidents: Dr. Andrew Sledd (1905-09), Dr. Albert A. Murphree (1909-28), Dr. John J. Tigert (1928-47), and Dr. J. Hillis Miller (1947-).

ENROLLMENT

The total enrollment at the University of Florida for the regular 1951-52 term was 9,000, of which approximately 2,000 were women.

COLLEGES

Among the units which make up the University of Florida are 10 colleges, 4 schools and numerous divisions and departments. The University's 10 colleges include: University, Agriculture, Architecture and Allied Arts, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education, Engineering, Law, Pharmacy, Physical Education and Health. Schools include: Forestry, Graduate, Journalism and the School of Inter-American studies.

Added in 1949 was the Cancer Research Laboratory. Of special importance in the national emergency is the Department of Military Science and Tactics which serves both the Army and Air Force. Other units include: Division of Music, Agricultural Experiment Station, Engineering Experiment Station, Agricultural Extension Service, General Extension Division, the Division of Libraries and Division of Public Relations.

PHYSICAL PLANT

The University's permanent physical plant has been greatly expanded during the past few years. Buildings recently completed include the Classroom-Administration Building, the Gymnasium Auditorium, two units of the Engineering and Industries Building, the Student Service Center, seven dormitories, additions to the Law Building, Chemistry-Pharmacy Building, Cafeteria, Infirmary, Hydraulics Laboratory, Library, Heating Plant, Army and Air Force R.O.T.C. Building, and Stadium, along with many other changes and additions to existing buildings. Largest building currently under construction is a $2,000,000 student residence hall. A College of Business Administration building is scheduled for construction shortly.

BOB WOODRUFF

Director of Athletics

George Robert Woodruff is in his third season as ringmaster of the Florida Gators.

He was born at Athens, Georgia. The family soon moved to Savannah where he played three years of high school football before entering the University of Tennessee. During the seasons of 1936-37-38, Woodruff was a standout tackle on the teams of General Bob Neyland which turned in a 23-5-3 record.

Immediately after receiving a degree in engineering from the University of Tennessee in 1939, Woodruff joined the Volunteer staff as assistant coach and was with Tennessee in that capacity when the teams of 1939 and 1940 dropped decisions to Southern California and Boston College in the Rose Bowl and Sugar Bowl games respectively.

Coach Woodruff entered the Army in 1941 and rose to the rank of Major in the Army Engineers with 4 years service before receiving his discharge in 1946.

For the football seasons of 1944 and 1945 he was assistant coach at West Point. Both of those seasons the Black Knights of the Hudson, manipulated by Coach Earl (Red) Blaik, thundered to national collegiate gridiron championships.

The next season, 1946, Woodruff returned South to join the Georgia Tech staff as line coach. That year Tech turned in a 9-2 record, including a 41-19 victory over Tulsa in the Oil Bowl.

In the Spring of 1947 Woodruff answered a call to Baylor University as head coach of the Southwest Conference Bears that had floundered in the league's cellar the year before with only one victory in nine starts.

The rough and ready Southwest had its eyes popped open early in the 1947 season when Baylor ripped its way to four straight victories—one a startling upset of Arkansas—before Texas halted the surge of the Bears. Baylor won five and lost five that year.

Came 1948 and a still more improved Bear eleven. They fought their way to a regular season record of five wins, three losses and two ties. Then on January 1st Baylor added another scalp by clipping Wake Forest 20 to 7 in the Delta Bowl game.

In 1949 Baylor made the going still harder for the giants of the Southwest and went down to the wire as the challenger to Rice for the Southwest Conference championship. The Owls had to come from behind for a 21 to 7 title win. Woodruff's record for his final year at Baylor was eight wins and two losses.

The auburn-haired, easy-going native Georgian faced very much the same reconstruction problem in Gainesville that greeted him in Waco three years ago when he took the step up into the head coaching ranks.

Woodruff's two Gator elevens (of 1950 and 1951) broke exactly even both seasons with 5-5 records against rugged schedules that have included the best of the Southeastern Conference.

Coach and Mrs. Woodruff (Margaret) have an eight year old son, Scooter.

"GATORS"

(From the FLORIDA TIMES-UNION (Jacksonville), Thursday, August 19, 1948.)

"MILLER RECALLS CHRISTENING OF UF TEAMS AS 'ALLIGATORS'"

"A Jacksonville lawyer 'christened' the University of Florida's football team 41 years ago when he gave a pennant-designing firm in Charlottesville, Va., the spur-of-the-moment suggestion of 'The Alligators.'

"Austin Miller, who has practiced law here since shortly after his graduation from the University of Virginia in 1910, yesterday recalled the circumstances surrounding the choice of a name for Florida University's athletic teams. It happened in the fall of 1907, a year after the University at Gainesville had fielded
its first football team.

"Miller, a native of Gainesville, was enrolled in the University of Virginia at the time and was visited by his father, Phillip Miller, a Gainesville merchant. The elder Miller, who died nine years ago, then owned and operated a combination drug store and stationery store
in Gainesville, a popular rendezvous for university students.

"While in Charlottesville the father decided to order
some pennants and banners for the University of Florida from the Michie Company, which was engaged in the manufacture of such items. The Millers went to the firm, where they were shown samples of pennants
which featured the Yale bulldog, the Princeton tiger and other school emblems. When the manager asked for Florida's emblem, the Millers realized the new school had none.

"Austin Miller said the name 'Alligators' occurred to him as a suitable emblem, both because the Michie manager said no other school had adopted it and because the alligator was native to this state. 'I had no idea it would stick, or even be popular with the student body,' Miller said. 'We wanted to get the Michie firm started on the pennants as quickly as possible, though, so they would be available in time for the opening of the 1908 school term.

"The Michie manager complicated the 'christening'
when he told young Miller he'd never seen an alligator and didn't believe he could design one. The law student volunteered to find a suitable picture of a 'gator.
After much search, he said, he located a picture of one in the library of the University of Virginia, made a tracing of it, and supplied it to the company.

"The first appearance of the alligator emblem, Miller recalled, was in his father's Gainesville store in 1908.
The Michie firm had supplied 'Miller's' with blue banners measuring six by three feet, showing a large orange alligator, and also with several different types of smaller banners and pennants. Some of them showed the alligator lying down, some rampant, while others included only the alligator's head.

"With the first display of the new banners and pennants in Gainesville, the name 'Alligators' to describe the football team 'caught on' Miller recalled and, now contracted to 'Gators, has been the name of the school's athletic teams ever since."

The University of Tennessee was originally chartered as Blount College. In 1807 it became known as East Tennessee College, and in 1879 the State Legislature adopted the college as the State University. U. T. was the first coeducational institution in America. The nickname "Volunteer" is the nickname of the state and has become the name of all athletic teams of the University. The name originated when Andrew Jackson successfully mustered armies of Tennessee volunteers to fight the Indians and also to participate in the battle of New Orleans; but the name became prominent when Governor Aaron Brown issued a call for 2,800 men to serve in the Mexican War in 1848. Instead of 2,800, 30,000 volunteered immediately.

Football made its debut at Tennessee around the turn of the century. In 1914 the Vols had their first undefeated season and the only such season until General Neyland became head man in 1926. Neyland's record at Tennessee is one of the best records in collegiate football. In a total of 199 games the Neyland-coached Vols have been victorious in 163, while losing 25 and tying 11.

Tennessee is a member of the Southeastern Conference and has participated in every major bowl in the country. Neyland was the first coach to send teams to the three major bowls in three consecutive years. The Vols dropped a 13-28 decision to Maryland in this year's Sugar Bowl game. This will be the first Florida-Tennessee game since 1944. The Gators have never defeated the Vols in football and saw a perfect Florida record ruined in the season's final with the Vols in 1928 (12-13), the year Florida paced the nation in scoring. FLORIDA FIELD PRESS BOX

The University of Florida press box, voted this year by the Football Writers of America as among the best in the nation, offers excellent working accommodations for newspapermen, radio broadcasters and photographers. The working areas of the box are kept absolutely free of all traffic except those people who have assignments to cover in the press box. In order to do this, press box tickets are printed with a "built-in" button hole and we ask that every person who has a press box assignment wear his ticket in sight at all times. From every point in the box, the view to the field is unobstructed (no uprights and even no glass). Each reporter has a 30-inch "desk" and all chairs (swivel) are bolted to the floor so that working conditions cannot become crowded. All copy is dispatched from the Western Union control room two floors below the press area. Copy is sent to the control room through a pneumatic chute and "copy boys" are always on the alert to take your copy from your desk to the chute operator. Darkrooms are provided for photographers who wish to process negatives before leaving the field and portable wire-photo facilities may be installed by agencies wishing to do so.
